All packages can be customized according to your personal requirements. You will get credit for the package components that you do not need. Our pricing is very straightforward and contains no hidden costs.

You keep all proofs and the proof album at no additional charge.

We design your album based on your ideas. Printing for your album is already included. Additional prints of any size are available anytime. There is no additional charge for black and white, special effect or panoramic images

We customize our photographic style to fit your personal preference - formal or journalistic, traditional or contemporary. We take many more photos than the minimum quoted in your package to insure that all preview prints are excellent quality.

Your wedding will be photographed by Ian (Guennadi) Maslov, a Cincinnati based photographer, artist and photo educator whose work has been published, exhibited and awarded all over the world.
